The deans and directors in the Office of Student Affairs provide individual and career advising to students through various services and regularly scheduled events and targeted programming based on progression of the medical student through the MD degree program.

Faculty members familiar with current trends within their specialty provide relevant information and guidance to students. They provide sponsorship for Specialty Interest Groups for early career exploration, advice on elective selection and residency program application, and participate in various career advisement events throughout the year.

Veritas is a vertical mentoring and advising system, with both faculty and advanced student peers who aid in student mentoring and advising. Faculty mentors meet with students throughout their academic experience to discuss career goals and direct students to appropriate resources to achieve these goals.

Specialists are available at the Student Counseling Center to assist students with clarifying career goals and interests, confronting doubts about career choices, and identifying specialty interests.
